NOTES

No Trace Yukon
Student Journal

This student journal is a place for you to write down trip experiences, including where and when you practice Leave No Trace techniques. You can record everything from class activities, weather, to animals you saw, to ways you worked to leave the wilderness the way you found it.

As you travel through the wilderness, remember that these principles are not rules, but ways of travelling that will help protect our wild spaces for the future. It's always your choice to follow the seven principles below. Good luck and thank you for doing your part to Leave No Trace!

Seven Leave No Trace Principles

1. Plan to Leave No Trace
2. Camp and travel on durable surfaces
3. Pack in, pack out
4. Properly dispose of what you can t pack out
5. Leave what you find
6. Use stoves and small campfires
7. Be considerate
