

During the week of October 12, 2009, a large bull elk was shot and abandoned on the Klondike Highway between Braeburn and Carmacks. The elk shot about 100 yards off the west side of the highway approximately seven kilometres south of Montague House.

It was a big bull that people would have remembered seeing on the side of the road. It is hoped that the public airing of this incident, and the approximate time that the incident may have occurred, may prompt a call to the toll free Turn In Poachers hotline.
